ANNOUNCEMENT

MR. E. L. Kunzman, who formerly owned The Indiana Dahlia Farm, has sold his entire interest in same to Thos. D. Sherfick, who will continue the business under the present name, and who will endeavor to please all patrons from the smallest to the largest, at wholesale and retail.

Mr. Kunzman, who MADE the dahlia in the whole of the Central, Southern and Northern sections of the U. S. A., by his personal enthusiasm over God's most wonderful Flower, and his untiring zeal, will continue hybridization of the dahlia, the aim being to produce perfect stem and fine growing and keeping qualities. These properties he believes very important to the lasting popularization of the dahlia.

He will also be pleased to hear from any friends, or have them call personally, at his home. His address is No. 2300 Slate Run Road, New Albany, Ind. Phone 762A.

Below are given a few new introductions of E. L. Kunzman, and a true description of each. Others are embodied in regular lists.

Outstanding New Dahlias

GOLDEN GIANT—Paeony-flowered, of immense size and wonderful beauty and shape of flower.

COLOR is pure old gold, unchanging and unshaded.

SHAPE is beautiful, the petals being curled and twisted, and having a wonderful metallic lustre.

SIZE is immense.

STEM is long and strong, but the neck is sometimes too weak for the heavy bloom.

PLANT is strong and bushy; healthy.

Price, each tuber, only $5.00

GOLDEN VEIL—Hyb. Cactus of exquisite color (pure cream) and formation of bloom, and very free blooming and large. Stem is long and strong, but neck is weak. However, it is well worthy of your consideration on account of its beauty. Price, per tuber, only $1.50

HALO—Decorative. Shape of Jersey's Beauty. Large size and pure, very light sulphur color. Stems are long and fine in every way. Very free blooming and desirable. Price, per tuber, only, $2.50

HEART'S DESIRE—Decorative. Exquisite light Salmon Rose color. Large. Perfect in form and has very good stem. Price, per tuber, only $1.50

SQUARE DEAL—Decorative. Splendid, full form and beautiful color, which is a soft, creamy yellow at center, shading out to soft Salmon Pink. It is a large bloom on a magnificent stem, and it is positively the freest blooming dahlia we ever grew. Habit: bushy and dwarf. Price, per tuber, only $2.00

KING OF COMMERCE—Decorative. This is not a new variety, but the most perfect growing dahlia ever introduced. Needs and WANTS NO EXTRA ATTENTION and will produce blooms of medium large size, set squarely on fine stems, 15 to 36 inches long, which keep until they dry up. The REAL cut-flower dahlia. Color is a rich tango, lighted gold. Price, per tuber, only 75c

NOTE—During the past season there were no flowers available to the florist except dahlias—We do not know how we could have supplied the extreme demand for cut blooms had it not been for such varieties as Halo, Square Deal, King of Commerce, etc. You cannot go wrong in ordering them.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS

CONTINUING the business policies of Mr. E. L. Kunzman is my aim. His heart-to-heart, simple, straight-forward methods won your reward and affection and, heartily meeting my approval, I can do no better than to continue the same.

I want you pleased. If you are not, let me know and I will see that you become so.

Like Mr. Kunzman, I am an extreme lover of the Dahlia. No greater flower has God created, and I believe, if you are a genuine flower lover, you will agree with me.

Don't fail to read the entire catalogue, or you may miss something which will be of interest to you.

I will especially appreciate personal letters or suggestions from you, and will thank you for any good word you may give your friends concerning me.

With best wishes,

THOMAS D. SHERFICK, President

INDIANA DAHLIA FARMS, New Albany, Indiana

Instructions and Information

ORDER EARLY. Use the order blank enclosed and fill it out completely. Name second choice where possible, as we may be out of some varieties wanted.

SELECTION OF VARIETIES. If you do not know just what varieties to order and want an especially good selection at a lower price, leave the matter with us and we will treat you right. The chances are that you will receive a selection that will please you better than your own.

SHIPMENT will be made as requested at about the proper time to plant in your locality. Most people plant dahlias too early in season to bring best results.

PACKING will be free on all orders unless otherwise noted and our method will bring them to you in splendid condition. Also, unless noted otherwise, POSTAGE WILL BE PREPAID.

DESCRIPTION OF VARIETIES. We do not believe in a lengthy description, therefore we give a short, concise description which will give you a better idea. If a dahlia has a certain outstanding fault, we will mention it.

SUBSTITUTION. Should you wish no substitution, please state so in order blank. Sometimes we are sold out of varieties wanted and, if acceptable, we would substitute a really finer sort, without added cost, rather than disappoint you in your plans.

GUARANTEE. Although we have a system as near perfect as possible, errors will occasionally creep in; but we wish to assure you that any error reported will be satisfactorily adjusted.

REMITTANCE by money order, check or cash in registered letter.

OUR PRICES are as low as can be for good, clean, true-to-name stock, as you will find out by comparison with others. The price of a tuber not always indicates its value. We have varieties at a low price which are more valuable than many high priced sorts. Therefore, where unacquainted, we would advise your leaving selection with us.

WE SAY AGAIN: Fill in the order blank completely, giving name and complete address.

Dahlia Don'ts

DON'T work the soil until it is dry enough to pulverize.

DON'T be afraid to work it deep and fine.

DON'T plant before soil is nice and warm.

DON'T plant vertical; plant as near horizontal as possible.

DON'T water when planting, or later, unless absolutely necessary.

DON'T let the soil harden; keep it worked.

DON'T let more than one sprout grow.

DON'T forget to stake plants before they grow up.

DON'T fail to fertilize when buds begin to show.

DON'T allow the old bloom to remain on plants.

DON'T fail to BOOST the dahlia; and—

DON'T buy from anyone just because they are cheap, as you

DON'T know what you are getting! Finally—

DON'T forget to read everything in this catalog.

Culture of the Dahlia

NO FIRM or individual can guarantee the growth of any plant, but if the following directions are followed, anyone will have success with the dahlia, which is easy to grow and returns much for a little care.

WHERE TO PLANT. The sunniest, openest spot you can find is the best.

FERTILIZING. Unless your soil is very poor, do not add fertilizer before planting, or until flower buds appear. If soil is very poor, add good rotted manure, or leaves, and spade in well and deep.

WHEN TO PLANT. Not until soil is good and warm and dry.

HOW TO PLANT. After soil is thoroughly pulverized to a nice depth, plant tubers horizontally (not vertically) about four or five inches deep, in rows three and a half to four feet apart, and allow two to three feet in row between plants. Cover with loose soil, but don't water.

STAKING. Put a strong stake to each plant, or a heavy stake to about every 20 feet of row, stringing wire 12, 24 and 36 inches above soil level, tightly to these stakes and immediately above the plants, so that when plants grow up into the wires they can be tied to same. Use good strong wire and fasten well to stakes.

PLANT TREATMENT. Should many sprouts appear above soil, about 12 to 18 inches, cut back to about one half its height, thereby causing it to branch and become stalky, and more self-supporting. Keep top soil loose and clean, but do not water unless exceedingly dry weather demands it. Should you wish larger blooms, these can be obtained by removing all buds excepting one from each lateral branch. We, however, do not practice disbudding and yet have extremely large flowers. All full-bloom flowers should be removed, as the more you cut, the more bloom will be produced by the plant. As mentioned before, when the flower buds appear, broadcast a good phosphate fertilizer between rows and, if possible, mulch with leaves, old manure or other material. Fertilizer may be applied about every two weeks, at the rate of about a big spoonful to the plant.

HARVESTING. Dig roots any time after a heavy frost, cut the tops off an inch or more from the clump. Tap the cut end if soil adheres too heavily.

STORING. After digging, store in a cool moist place where frost cannot reach them. If you must store in a dry or warm place, put them in boxes or barrels, clumps upside down, and cover with fine soil, sand or other material. If necessary, moisten this material during storage. In the spring when eyes have formed on clumps, divide to a single tuber if possible so that each division has an eye, and if it is not yet planting time, store away again. Never expose the tuber to the drying air for very long.

Our Leaders For 1926

THE following list contains dahlias which have outstanding merit or attraction, and those which we especially recommend to the discriminating buyer. Our descriptions will be found concise and correct.

A. C. Lawrence, H-C—In this dahlia we have one of the best hybrid cactus dahlias ever introduced. It is very large and of good substance. The color is a fine shade of flesh pink. As a keeper, when cut, it cannot be excelled.
Price, $1.50

Alex Waldi, Dec. — Creamy yellow overlaid with delicate salmon pink. Splendid form with good stems.
Price, $1.50

Ambassador, C. — Flowers are immense size, held erect on stems that are strong and stiff. Color is a soft yellow center with salmon, amber and pink shades gradually deepening towards the tips of the petals.
Price, $2.00

Amun Ra, Dec. — This immense dahlia resembles the setting sun. The outer petals of the mammoth blooms are of gorgeous shades of copper and orange, shading to gold and amber, and deepening in the center to a dark reddish bronze. The blossoms keep for days when cut. The stems are long, erect and very stout.
Price, $2.00

Apple Blossom, C-D — New, large, soft rose pink. Usually blooms very early with us.
Price, $1.00

Attraction, H-C — A large, elegant flower of a clear lilac rose, borne on long stiff stems and a dahlia of exceptional merit. Always in demand as a cut flower.
Price, 75c.

Azalea, Dec.—An immense bloom formed of many rows of long narrow florets, giving it an unusually attractive as well as uncommon shape. Color: soft, creamy yellow with outer petals suffused pink.
Price, 75c.

Ballet Girl, C.—This is one of the most striking dahlias in our gardens. Some of the flowers are orange-edged white, others pure orange and still others a variation of white and orange, all on the same bush. A splendid cut flower, and none better for exhibition.

This is one dahlia that ought to be in every one's collection. See illustration on page 7.
Price, $1.50

Ben Wilson, Dec.—A grand new variety of large size (six to ten inches without disbudding) with excellent stems. Color is a bright buff, heavily shaded with rich red and also tipped with yellow. Very attractive as a garden plant or on exhibition.
Price, $1.25

Bertha Jost, Dec.—A very handsome, free-flowering large dahlia, and carried on long stiff stems. Base deep sulphur, outer petals blended with peach pink, the center tinted with burnt orange. A wonderful keeper when cut. Plants, $2.00. Tubers, $3.00

Bashful Giant—One of the largest flowering dahlias ever produced. The gigantic blooms are excellent for exhibition where size is one of the requisites. It is also of great merit for its beautiful color, being apricot with golden shadings.
Price, $2.00

Bonnie Brae, Dec.—Giant cream, shaded bluish pink. The flowers are produced on long, very slender stems. Always in bloom.
Price, $1.50

Break O'Day, H-C—A strong, vigorous grower and a free bloomer. A delicate, clear sulphur yellow tinted to sulphur white at the tips. The flowers are of great substance, illuminated by a satiny sheen, giving the flowers a waxy appearance.
Price, 75c.

Breeze Lawn, Dec.—This is an early and profuse bloomer. Intense fiery red, large size, perfect form and full center.
Price, $1.00

California Beauty, C.—A new shade in cactus. Mammoth amber copper on perfect stems. Very attractive.
Price, $1.00

Cantean, Dec. — Mammoth Shrimp pink. This dahlia closely resembles Hort Fiet, but has much better habits.
Price, $1.00

BALLET GIRL

(Cactus)

Varying shades of orange and white.

For further description see page six.

Price - - - $1.50

Carmencita, Dec. — Immense clear yellow-penciled scarlet. Attracts much attention in our gardens.

Price, $1.00

Cath. Wilcox, Hyb., Dec.—Flowers refined of form and of a most attractive color. White; points of petals tipped cerise.

Price, $2.00

Champagne, Dec.—This is undoubtedly one of the largest dahlias that grows. The color is a delightful warm shade of autumn. Stem is heavy and holds the massive flowers absolutely upright.

Price, $3.00

Charm, Dec.—One of the most admired dahlias. A pleasing shade of burnt orange, shading to yellow. Stems good. Free flowering and a good keeper.

Price, $1.00

Cigarette, H-C—Creamy white, heavily edged orange, but no two flowers are alike. Bloom is very large, held well above the foliage on good stems. See illustration on page 21.

Price, $1.50

Comstock, Dec.—An immense yellow. Begins to bloom very early and continues through the season. This is a bargain, indeed, if you like yellow dahlias. Try one.

Price, 75c.

Daddy Butler, H-C.—Rose carmine, reverse silver white. Stem is perfect and a very profuse bloomer. Blooms will keep a week when cut.

Price, $3.00

Dakota, Dec.—New. Immense red brown. Very good for exhibition. You can't go wrong in ordering this dahlia.

N. C. 4

Mrs. R. R. Strange, Dec.—Burnished copper, shaded old rose and go.d.
Price, 75c.

Mrs. W. E. Estes, H-C—One of the finest white dahlias of its type. The large, deep blooms are held on strong stems. A most graceful and beautiful flower.
Price, $1.00

Nancy Helen, Dec. — A delicate shrimp pink blossom on long, wirey stems. A very desirable florists' dahlia.
Price, $1.25

N. C. 4, Dec.—A very beautiful flower. The color is about equally divided with scarlet and white, the florets are more or less striped the whole length with yellow and white. Reverse side of petals are white and yellow shadings.
Price, $1.00

Nobilis, Dec.—This is almost a counterpart of Earl Williams, of which it is a sprout. Brilliant crimson and white. Its bright coloring makes it very attractive. Fine, stiff stems and striking coloring make it a good cut flower.
Price, $2.00

Oregon Sunset, Dec.—Large blooms of rich, golden yellow, heavily suffused and dusted bronzy crimson. Distinct and irresistible combination of colors. Free flowering and a vigorous grower with long stems.
Price, $1.00

Osam Shudow, Dec.—A delightful old rose, slightly suffused with lilac, well above the foliage on remarkably and shading to yellow at the center.

The big, heavy, loose petals produce a flower more like a gigantic rose than a dahlia. The huge blossoms are held stiff stems.
Price, $2.50

Our Country, Dec.—The ground or main color is a very deep purple while the florets are heavily tipped pure white. It is mammoth and the formation is wonderful. It is a very deep heavy flower with a never failing center. The colors run very uniform. It was offered to the public in 1923 for the first time at $50.00 per bulb.
Price, $10.00
